

FIMRC Chapters – Local Volunteering

Getting involved locally is a great way to keep members engaged throughout the year, improve your community around your campus, and fulfill FIMRC's mission without leaving the country!

Ways to Get Involved:

- Campus-wide events such as Dance Marathon, Relay for Life, and Take Back the Night are a great way to get involved on campus and connect with like-minded students who enjoy advocating for different causes!
- Serving in local health clinics and hospitals by giving health education sessions or assisting with taking vitals. This is an amazing way to get involved and learn about the health care field! This will allow volunteers to acquire new skills that will prepare them on a future FIMRC trip! The Rowan SOM-GSBS chapter volunteers throughout the year at a local hospital, working with children to teach them about topics like surgery and doing craft activities with patients.
- Volunteering in local community centers such as after school centers, soup kitchens, and elementary schools. Our chapter at Texas Tech University Health Science Center-School of Pharmacy visits a school to assist children with their homework each week while the University of Georgia Chapter teach health education sessions at an elementary school throughout the school year!
